Select Poetry.

THE DRUNKARD' CHILD.

BY RICHARD HINCHCLIFFE.

Out' mid the cold, piercing sleet,
Out amid winds howling wild,
Over the ice-covered street
Wandered a poor drunkard's child!

She seemed a stray lamb from the fold;
And none seemed to know or to care;
In her rags how she shivered with cold;
And her feet they were frozen and bare,

Shelterless, hungry and weak;
There was none to take pity and aid;
There was no one a kind word to speak;
And thus the poor stricken one prayed:

'O God, send the death angel down
To take me from want and despair,
To that Heaven where my mother has gone,
How I long, yes, I long to be there!

My poor little brother, who died
Of hunger and cold, seems to stand
And beckon me up to his side,
In that happier, holier land!

My mother who always looked sad;
It was seldom, too seldom she smiled;
She's more beautiful now, she seems glad
As she whispers 'Come upward, my child.'

Our Father take me to my home,
To my home on that beautiful shore;
Where hunger and cold never come;
Where sorrow and pain are no more.,'

Soon night's sable mantle was spread
O'er the earth and its joy, and its woe;
And the homeless one pillow'd her head,
And slept her last sleep in the snow.

He had heard the poor lonely one's prayer
Stretched his arm in his pity and love;
God took the poor sufferer to share
His sweet joys in the mansion above.

Correspondence.

For the REPUBLICAN.

Drunkenness and its Curses.

BY REFORMATION.

A man who had lived a drunken life for many years, who seemed to have lost all sense of humanity and reason, went from his already miserable home on a spree, and was gone for weeks. On his return, he found that the landlord, as the rent was not paid, had turned his family into the street. (The landlord owned large estates, stood high in society, among other things rented the highest price pew in the church.) After considerable difficulty he found his family in a miserable hovel. With fear and trembling he approached the place—for he was sober then. Sober did I say. "Yes sober," thank the Lord of mercy, he was sober. After winding his way through a damp, dark, and narrow passage, he discovered his family, he hid himself in a corner and the scene which he beheld sent a convulsive thrill through his whole frame. In one corner, on a broken chair, sat his much abused and almost heart-broken wife, his children clinging around her. The first words that caught his ear were from his little girl, who looked pitiously up in his wife's face, and said "Mother, I am so hungry." It pierced him to the heart. His wife wept bitterly, while in another corner sat in solemn silence his poor old broken-down mother. "My son," said the wife, when the weeping had subsided so that she could speak, "my son, go to Mr—— and ask him for God's sake to give us something to eat and keep us from starvation. His poor little bare-footed, half naked, and half-starved boy passed him unseen, and after a short absence returned, saying that Mr.—— would not give him anything, but ordered him out of his store, and told him to not come bothering him, that his father was a good for nothing drunkard. Who was this, Mr.—— well he is a man of wealth, owns his thousands, and is a member of the church, partakes of the great emblems of eternal life, makes long and loud prayers at the prayer meeting, and is a class leader, is a Sunday school teacher, entertains ministers and their families in great pomp and splendor. You see him at revivals making great seeming efforts to convert sinners to the house of God. And his family occupy the highest priced pew in the church, but notwithstanding all this, when this poor half naked and starved boy appeals to him for something to eat, he orders him out of his store and casts up to this poor famishing child, that his father was a drunkard. The boy returns to his broken hearted mother, and tells her that Mr.—— refused to give him anything. His mother arose almost in despair, looked round, and found some of the children's ragged clothing. The mother stood some time, as if turning over in her mind how she could make them go the furthest, at length she told her son to take these and go to a certain store and get a few potatoes, and as he was entering with his few cents worth of potatoes, the little girl exclaimed, "Now we can have something to eat, can't we mother." The father witnessed all this, and before he became a drunkard, had supported his family in comfort. He now appears, comes forward and embraces his family and then and there swears eternal vengence on the monster that had destroyed his peace and happiness on earth for years. That family now have the necessaries of life, and that father is now a sober man, but does he owe anything to the church member who refused to give his child something to eat, he owes something, but reader I will not here answer in my humble judgement what that debt is, for the present, reader, I will leave that for you to define. I will endeavor to throw more light on this subject in future, you may consider this article my text. It is sufficient is it not for a number of articles on this subject? I do not wish to wound the feelings of any one, but I wish to be fully understood, that I propose handling this question without fear, favor, or affection from any source whatever. Much has been said and done on the subject of drunkenness, or intemperance, but yet little good has been accomplished, and why, simply because the advocates of temperance are either infatuated with a false zeal, or else they are afraid of just such men as refused food to the drunkard's family. They do not attack the monster in his den. The great head quarters of the monster must be entered, and he who professes to be a friend of the cause of temperance, and will not do this, is simply denying "Christ." I do not enter upon this duty for the purpose of gaining the plaudits or esteem of the world. But knowing my duty, I enter upon it without the fear of the world, with its sneers and scoffs. And he who will not do this is simply a coward to say the least of him, and his heart is dead to the cause which he espouses with his lips. And Saten owns the largest share of stock in all such advocates. But not afraid of their faces, for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord, Jeremiah 1st, & 8th v. No man can advocate the cause of temperance in any other way [illegible] through "Christ," [illegible] accomplish [illegible] the truth of this [illegible]ng since been fully established. [illegible]ance is a monster which you can[illegible] as you feed it. All the weapons o[illegible] fall harmless at its feet, as long as [illegible] give it food. As well may you arrest lightning in its course, as to stop th[illegible] mighty stream of intemperance which [illegible] now upon us, as long as the springs from which it issues are supplied. Who supplies the springs, it is not the hotel keeper, saloon keeper, nor is it the manufacturer or the wholesale dealer. They are implicated and are accessory to the crime of drunkenness, but yet they do not supply the springs from which it issues. And the consequence is that the liquid fire of death and destruction is rapidly gaining upon us, and why is this, simply from the fact that the great fountain head of this monster is kept full, there is but one answer to make as to who it is that keeps up the supplies. I am sorry to have this charge to make, but I must and will make it. It is the "Christian community" that are supplying the springs and feeding the monster. A large proportion of the christian community are at this moment engaged in the spread of intemperance. They are either supplying the poison that nourishes it, or by their example encouraging its use. In our future articles we will endeavor to show more fully the working of this great "satanical machine."

Drunkenness and its Curses—No. 2.

BY REFORMATION.

Drunkenness, how awful does that name sound in the family circle, and how often is it heard by the distressed wife and her children. If hearing the black demoniacal name was all, it would not be so terrible, but this is not all, nay verily death and destruction follows in its footsteps, murder misery and crime of every conceivable shape and form are its attendants. But what is that appearing yonder in the distance, moving with a slow and quiet step. It proves to be a funeral. Oh yes Mr—— died last night, and is now being carried to the grave, but horrible to relate his death was caused by whiskey, he died a raving maniac, went home at a late hour drove his family out of the house, was seized with delerium and before the rising of another sun, was cold in death. The procession is now moving past us. Who can behold the distressed appearance of that mother and children, without a shudder running through the heart, her children at her side, and bitter tears of sorrow flowing down their cheeks. He who vowed before the alter of God to be the earthly protector of this woman during life, has been a source of torment and misery to whom he promised to cherish and love. In the beginning he was a kind husband and father, and that is not to be said of many yea thousands. Who was that man who came to the door over the way there and gazed a moment upon the procession, and turned so quick back into the house? Why he is the man from whom Mr——got his last bottle of whiskey. Conscience cries out you helped to murder that man, he could not stand and look upon that mother and children, he deposited some money in bank yesterday and the money got for the last quart, sold Mr—— was a part of it. No, conscience would not allow him to look upon this mournful procession, without stamping a full conviction of guilt upon his heart. But now as the procession is about to enter another street, on the corner are twelve well dressed and quite respectable looking men standing (I was nearly saying gentlemen) they also was gazing upon this distressed procession—but their looks did not seem calm and at ease. Upon inquiring I found they were the men who signed a certain document or thing called a petition for license, by which the man on the corner obtained the right from an institution called a court of "justice," to retail death and destruction among his fellow men. No wonder then, the faces of these twelve men, cast a shadow of trouble working within, conscience had spoken to them also. Now if they would speak out boldly, and frankly say to the crowd standing around, what the spirit of God said to them as they were looking upon this broken hearted mother and the fatherless children, what would they be compelled to say? Now these men claim to be men of honor and of good standing among men, in short the court claims such to a license or a petition for same, before granting a license. Now do not for any sake deny the charge made by God through your conscience upon you. You were plainly told that you are accessories to the death of the earthly protector of that women and her children. This procession has now entered the street leading to the cemetery, there stands three well dressed looking men on the side walk, they seem to have a troubled look as this procession is passing them, and pray who are they? I am told by a by-stander that it is the President Judge and his two associates of the court. Oh yes, this is the "Triumviri," to whom that petition signed by these twelve men was handed, and by them the license granted and handed to the man over the way, by which he is empowered with the privilege of dealing out the lava of distruction to his fellow men. Then is it any wonder these looks betray the inward feelings of these men? Conscience is once more at work, and it has done its duty, these men have a prefix attached to their names, and they stand very haughty upon a plank in their platform known to the world—and which is called "dignity." Now for that prefix. Well it is a word of high sounding tone, and known in our language as the word "Honorable." Now we have a book called the Bible, let us turn to it for a moment. I suppose you will not deny what it says, and is it not high time for those who fill high places on earth to humble themselves and heed its teachings, before it is forever too late. Well let us see what the Psalmist says about honor. Psalm XLVIII, and 20th V., Man that is in honor, and understandeth not, is like the beasts that perish. That is an awful verdict, such it must be, and these words through the spirit of God were sounded in your conscience at the time you stood looking upon this funeral procession, and a conviction of guilt rested upon you, hence your troubled looks, and in what light do you stand in the sight of "Him" before whom all must soon appear. A man is brought before your tribunal to be tried for murder. But another has been brought with him and why, because he furnished the weapon of death, and what is the decree of the court he is pronounced an accomplice and is punished along with the murderer. And thus do you appear before the Bar [of] God, as an accomplice. [illegible] of defence on pa[illegible] suppose the[illegible] court for [illegible] will be [illegible] this law [illegible] statute boo[illegible] d theo[illegible] sworn to execute th[illegible] and ask for its privileges ar[e] fully entit[illegible] them, provided they make their appli[illegible]tions fully in accordance with the provisions of said law. And upon these grounds the executor of that law claims exemption from guilt. We will have more to say upon this part of the subject in future. Remember I am talking to the church, to those who profess christianity. Bitter and sweet water cannot flow from the same fountain. Nor can we serve God and mammon. Let the workings of carnal minds be as it may to the contrary, notwithstanding. There goes that widowed mother and her orphan children back to their home now made desolate and filled with gloom. She and her children are weeping the bitter tears of sorrow. It is natural for us to weep over our departed relations, but they are not always the bitter tears of sorrow, when we have the "Divine" assurance that the soul of our departed friend rests in peace. Not so with this broken hearted wife and mother with that awful decree ringing through her now distracted mind. No drunkard shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven. Those are her tears, are they not the bitter tears of sorrow, and which must haunt this woman the balance of her days on earth.

MR. EDITOR:—This being the first contribution, to your journal, from my pen, all allowance, therefore, will be made for any perceptible want in thought for diction. If any glaring blunders appear on the face of this article, attribute them to my inexperience in writing for the public press. It is not expected a paper from my pen, to exhibit that rhetorical beauty and depth of thought, as one from the brain and hand of a man disciplined from boyhood, to read and write, under the eye of a skillful educator. He would perform this task with comparative ease and pleasure. You are aware, Mr. Editor, that the foundation of a thorough education must, or should, be laid in early life, to insure scholastic success.

It is obvious, from the testimony of the experienced and learned, that the primary principles of instruction are easier mastered in youth than in advanced age. Their acquisition and mastery are peculiarly adapted to the youthful mind. If adults master the rudimentary branches of education, it is by perseverance and constant application. My work, while a student at Wilberforce, was to forget parcial manhood to return to neglected youth. To do this, required a sacrifice of rest and many of the luxuries of life. This, to me, was harder work than farming.

Since my return, inquisitive friends have looked the following question into my face: "Well, Isaiah, I suppose you have made good use of your time since you have been gone?" This has not only been looked into my face, but greeted my ears. I shall not attempt to answer this plausible interrogation fully, as I have some friends here, as well as in the West, who are in possession of facts sufficient to reply satisfactorily.

Some of the citizens of Bellefonte have made me feel that they have been deeply interested in my welfare from boyhood. I cannot forbear referring to the wholesome impressions made upon my mind in the Presbyterian and Episcopalian Sabbath Schools. Those impressions still live in my memory, restraining me from indolence, pride and superstition. They have not only served as restraints, but as incentives to industry, humility and earnest study. It is with profound reverence I refer to the excellent advice given me by the Clergymen of the P. and E. congregations, viz. Reverends Mr. Linn and Mr. Knatt. It is with rare feelings of respect that I refer to their sacred memories. May their names be long embalmed in the memories of those whom they once served. Those who were my teachers in the schools, I have mentioned, convinced me by their faithful instruction, that they cared for my intellect as well as my soul. Permit me, Mr. Editor, to submit to your readers, my reasons for leaving Bellefonte.

1st.. The limited advantages offered for Mental Improvement:—The truthfulness of this statement is attested by well established facts. You, with many others, are aware that the colored youth in this place, were very much neglected in '57, '58 and '59, by those to whom their educational interests were committed. When they deigned to allow us school, five or six months, were allotted, followed by an intermission of equal length. Night schools were organized, I suppose, to compensate for the deficiency of the day school. A dead plant cannot propagate a living progeny. One might say there was a living common school system at that time. I admit that it was living, but at a poor dying rate. Seeing the lax interest manifested in our education, and the very gloomy prospects of a change for the better, forced me to go where facilities for mental and moral improvement were superior to those at home. I left almost without coat or scrip, to meet the darkness and sunshine incident to a young man beginning life. I had no scholarly habits of mind, nor common school training. All of these prerequisites, or as many as possible, I had to acquire at an age when they come hard.—But while struggling against wind and tide, I was cheered by a few Philanthropists of this city, to whom I feel very grateful for their timely favors.

And 2d.. An instinctive desire for usefulness:—To account for the orgin of this desire, satisfactorily, would involve a discussion of tedious length. The question might arise, whether time, with all its vicissitudes, has not diminished the strength of that desire? I can say, in reply, that the opposite of diminution has been happily experienced. Under its beneficial influence I studied, and made sacrifices, and under its soul-inspiring influence I expect to pursue my studies and make sacrifices for extended usefulness in Southern fields. My highest aim and ambition are to swell the ranks of those who [illegible] sacrifice for the mo[illegible] political [illegible] mand [illegible] to[illegible] look upon th[illegible] ornamenting those onc[illegible] deep ravines. Some of these edifices exhibit a beauty of design unequaled by places more populus. An observer's eyes are not pained by looking upon extravagant projections and useless appendages attached to the dwellings specified.—This discovery impresses us with the fact that your citizens have exalted ideas of economy, neatness and symmetry, which are some of the constituent elements of architectural beauty. Citizens I also congratulate you upon the Common School System, now in operation. This system possesses a life that makes the colored youth, as well as adults, of this place feel its existence. From a living plant, we naturally look for a living progeny. It is hoped, these admirable improvements will have a salutary affect upon the structure and purity of your society.

I am yours for the progress of Liberty,
J. H. WELCH.

Base Bawl.

Base bawl is a invensbun of man, and is ushually plade by mankind. Some other animals due pla bawl, but not base bawl. Party feelings and secktarianism is all sunk at the base of the gaim.

It is a very animated gaim when plade lively. We awlways had a curiosity to see a gaim of Base Bawl plade. Tother day the news spread like "wile fire," that we was a going to have a gaim plade in our plase.

The day arrove. The shops and plases of business was all closed; men looked wise and wimmen looked wiser and gurls looked wisest, in fact everybody looked very ga and giddy, if not giddier. It was an eventful epoch in our history. Two klubs was on the ground airly in the da; one of them is a native of the place—the tother one come from somewhare else. The one is called by the ufonious title of "Jay Burds," tother one is called "Fly up the Cricks." You wuld have thot it was a meeting of some religous folks, at first site, fur you culd hear languidge about our grate ruler not found in any dictionary; so I went to a feller with a red kap on, and asked him what church tha had jined; he said, "Repeat that, and youl jine a klub." I did'nt repeat, but told him I did'nt no anything about the gaim.

The laws of the gaim was read, and the klubs wore red kaps, in fact everything looked red—the ladies was red. I guess the klubs said something outlandish that made the wummin look so red, but I expect it belongs to the game to say such things, and there was also some red noses too—this is oxillery to the gaim. The hul affare seemed to be a union of church, state and the world; but the gaim went on with tremenjous batting and invinsible fealding, and bawling of the latest fashion—skreams of ded bawl, and fowl bawl, and cries of run, hold your base, interspersed with emfatic words of wickedness came from the multitude, for they had been elected umpires. This dramatic bawling melee came to a ded hault at twenty minutes till five o'clock. The umpire, with the red kap, declared tha had plade a game of Base Bawl. The scorers report was next in order. It was found that the "Jay Burds" had made, in seven runs, just eight outs and one star run.

The "Fly up the criks" had made just eight runs, and seen stars all the time, in fack tha seen so many stars tha thot tha was playing by starlight, but the ambulance wagon appeared and hauled oph the plaers that could'nt walk. More agin. B. BAWL.

A good story is told of a New York lawyer, who was bothered by the importunities of two un-get-ridable lady canvassers of a new work. Finally, in order to get rid of them, he said: "Ladies, the partnership of which I am a member, has lately been so imprudent as to issue a new work of their own, which, in consequence of the enormous expense attending its illustrations, embellishments, &c. has completely crippled us." "Then perhaps," replied the angelic canvasser, "we could procure you some subscribers. What do you call your work?" "Well we have not fully determined, as yet: but I guess I'll let my wife have her own way and call it after me—Charles Henry.

In the Senate next winter there will be one Republican and seven Democratic Senators who were not here last winter. In the House of Representatives there will be thirty-four Republicans and twenty-four Democratic members not here last session. This is one of the most radical changes that has taken place for years.

In a certain down-east town is living a fellow who is humility personified. The other day he asked a young lady if he might "be allowed the privilege of going home with her," and was indignantly refused; whereupon he inquired very humbly if he might be allowed to sit on the fence and see her go by."

The latest instance of a rose being made to smell as sweet by any other name, comes to us from Sydney, Ohio, where a young lady asked at a music store for "feline intestines for lyrical purposes."

"Landlord," said a traveler at the table of a country tavern, "the soup is a little weaker than I'm used to it; I wish you'd just let that chicken of yours wade through it once more."

THE COLORED VOTE.

Let no man be frightened at the colored vote. We are not wiser than the founders and fathers of this Government. In the days of Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Jackson, colored men voted in nearly every State in the Union. They voted in Pennsylvania, by virtue of Democratic enactments down to 1838, when the right was taken from them by the Democratic party so-called, in obedience to the mandates of the slave-driving aristo- [illegible] Once more, through [illegible] blican party, the [illegible] een granted to [illegible] ressed race. [illegible] Dem- [illegible] an [illegible] adop- [illegible] t. The [illegible] groes the [illegible] expected [illegible] s a question [illegible] and justice. But read the Inquirer's article.

Some of the Democratic journals are rejoicing, that notwithstanding the colored vote, Republican majorities have not been increased in the late elections in the Northern States; and that the probabilities are that we will lose as much as we will gain by the enfranchisement of the colored race. Some weak-kneed Republicans, also, are echoing in part what is said by the Democracy, and are uttering complaints and repeating the inevitable, "I told you so," in connection with this matter. To these remarks, come from what party they may, we have but one reply, and that is this: It was not a question of which political party the colored man would vote with, when he had a legal right to cast a ballot; but it was a question of simple right and justice. His right to vote was a logical result of the principles on which the Republican party was founded. It could no more deny him that right, than it could ignore its whole history and every principle it had professed. Had it been morally certain that every colored voter, the moment he was invested with the right of franchise, would cast it for the candidates and policy of the Democratic party, it could have made no difference to the vote of any honest or conscientious Republican on that question. To him the right of the negro to the elective franchise was as sacred as his own. It stood precisely on the same basis. He was entitled to that right, not because he was a negro, but because he was a man and an American citizen. That right was above all political policies. It stood and rested on the same grand foundation with Republican government itself.

If the Republican party had no better reason for favoring the adoption of the fifteenth amendment than the expectation that the newly enfranchised citizens would vote with them, they would deserve to be disappointed. But such was not the fact, for while a few may have been influenced by such a consideration, the great body, we feel quite sure, took a much higher view of the case. They wanted justice to be done no matter what political party was temporarily benefited by it. They wanted the true principles of a Republican government to prevail, whether the Republicans or the Democrats were in power, and looking at the question in that light they have no regrets for the past whatever its effect on the fortunes of their political party.

We are well aware that by many this view of the case may be regarded as belonging to that class that is often denominated impracticable and visionary, but we are content to know that it is pre-eminently right and founded on sound principle. With this conviction we are satisfied to let the rightfulness and sound policy of the enfranchisement of the colored race abide the decision of time.

LUZERNE DISTRICT—WOODWARD'S DEFEAT.

The Watchman has a great deal to say about the defeat of Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong in this District by 27 votes—the same district which gave him a majority of 2028 votes two years ago, and howls "nigger! nigger nigger." If it was the "Fifteenth Amendment" or the "nigger" that defeated Mr. Armstrong in this district, will the Watchman please inform its benighted readers in regard to the causes which led to the great revolution in the Luzerne District?

Was it the "Nigger" that elected Mr. Shoemaker by nearly two thousand majority in a district that gave Judge Woodward nearly 3,000 majority two years ago? Was it the "nigger" that defeated that same Judge Woodward—that first class humbug and rebel sympathiser, in a Democratic judicial district, in which he was a candidate for Judge, this fall by a majority of 2,152 votes? We rejoice over the defeat of Woodward, and if it were the fifteenth amendment that accomplished his defeat, then we say glory for the negro. Whatever may have been the cause, there appears to have been a radical change in Woodward's district for the better. Will Meek be kind enough to explain the causes? Was it the "nigger" that worked the change? Come, now, Meek "du tell."

There have been some queer changes in certain quarters this fall; but can Meek point us to so great a revolution anywhere in the whole country as that in the Luzerne District? Think of it reader! Geo. W. Woodward, that semi-rebel, and treason sympathiser—the brains for, and acknowledged leader of the Pennsylvania rebel Democracy, stricken down in the Luzerne District by an overwhelming majority! Geo. W. Woodward, once Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania,—a candidate for Governor in 1863, and a member of Congress for two years, was a candidate for President Judge of Luzerne county and was defeated on the 11th day of October last by a majority of 2,152 votes. This is a Republican gain within two years, of 5,357 votes. Once more we ask Meek, was it the "nigger" that brought about this change? We notice that the Democratic papers of the Luzerne district are of the opinion this fall that the poultry business does not pay. And oh! how they go for the sore heads, the men who scratched, and cut, and bolted. The boot is on the other leg down there.

SPEER'S "STANDARD WINE BITTERS."—The recommendation of the best Chemists and Medical Practitioners assures the public of the purity of Speer's Wines, and they are as well assured of the purity of his "Standard Wine Bitters," the base of which is his wine, only made bitter by herbs and roots daily used by the Medical Faculty, among which are Peruvian Bark, Chamomile Flowers, Wild Cherry Bark, &c. Druggists sell the Bitters.

A CHAPTER ON THIEVES.

The "Invisible" correspondent of the Blair county Radical, is a very spicy writer and tells a great many good wholesome truths, which everybody and all their friends should know. He understands the inside workings of the Legislature, and the "Men who hang around Harrisburg" and he could tell if he would where Meek got the money to build his neat brick house with a hall in it, and he could tell just how the said Peter G. Meek will make enough, through the assistance of James Burns & Co., to pay for the Gilliland property, or to build himself a Brick Mansion on Half-moon hill. He could also tell how, and why the "Big Sandy Run Improvement Company" was incorporated and who got the money. And he co[illegible] ld tell [illegible] no doubt, if he would, [illegible] tion of Brainerd and all "sich" jus [illegible] a [illegible] actly how Meek happend to get to o[illegible] ner majority in this Borough; but whe[illegible] that he could do this or not, we know [illegible] which he explains a great many things [illegible] and we the tax-payers should know, [illegible] himself. will therefore let him speak for [illegible]

[illegible] degree [illegible] theft, as there [illegible] and as we trust, there [illegible] The man who adroitly relieves me of my wallet, genteely, quietly, unobtrusively, without damaging my clothes, in a crowded street-car, or at a theatre's close, is a gentleman compared with the wretch who grabs my horse's bridle, and makes me look into a six-shooter till my eyes stick out like pot feet, while I tremblingly hand out my pocket-book, and my knife, and my comb, (probably not cleaned for a week,) and my little bit of vest fob currency, and my few crumbs of tobacco, scalings of the plug I finished that afternoon, and my private memorandum book, and then insult me by reflecting on my poverty by handing back what is of no use to him and what he thinks can not be of any to me. But the highwayman is the embodiment of honor and honesty and virtue, when compared with the legislator who takes advantage of his position on committee to hold back a bill, or change the corporators, or add himself to the number, or report a bill negatively, to bring money into his own pocket. Did any of your readers ever leaf over the pamphlet laws and notice how many members are corporators in private acts? If not, go to the nearest Justice of the Peace, right off, and look. The laws are dotted all over with legislators' names—like fly specks along a crack in a ceiling or on the surface of a sun-dried apple-snit. A committee comes here in the winter and wants a charter to erect a ferry over Tadpole creek, in the Oil Regions, or a latteral railroad to make valuable a worthless ore-bank, or to develope some other of the inexhaustible resources of the Commonwealth. The bill is drawn at home, probably by their country lawyer, and they and their neighbors in whom they have confidence, are made corporators. It is read in place and referred to the proper committee. A week—two—go by, board bills run up and the visiting party become anxious to go home. The bill comes out, but with a majority of the incorporators struck out and their places filled by members or men of the rottenest straw. The visiting party grumble, but is all they can do, and in order to get anything, they buy out the "interest" of the majority so as to be able to get control of their own property. This way lots of legislators get rich. And it does not require half as much brains or capital as to run a peanut stand, either.

It does not appear that Meek is one of the Incorporators in the "Big Sandy" but it is very certain that he is Secretary of said company and is very industrious in demanding the toll money. Does not "Invisible" explain it all? The $9,500,000 swindle is the next big steal and Meek and Burns and Petriken and Crawford are leaning back in their easy chairs preparing to gobble up their share of the money arising from this swindle when the proper time arrives.

Gov. Geary vetoed a bill last winter passed in the interest of the Legislative thieves who hang around Harrisburg, and we hope he will keep a sharp eye on them this winter and veto any and every bill, which has for its object the depletion of the State Treasury. The people demand that the Sinking Fund be carefully and vigilantly guarded. We hope the Governor will not suffer himself to be deceived by the Meekness of the thieves.

JEFFERSON DAVIS ON THE DEATH OF GENERAL ROBERT E. LEE.

Public opinion is rarely in error, says the Grand Army Journal, and when once made up and expressed, is as firm as the eternal hills. Jefferson Davis has been the subject of public opinion, and he is conscious of it. Whether he is flattered or not by what he knows, we care nothing. But it will be observed the people watch carefully the changes which time and reflection are making in his personal appearance. They believe him to have upon his soul the stupendous guilt of the chief of the rebellion. They believe also that with that guilt upon him he must show some signs of its work. Hence, whenever he appears abroad, the reports all state how he looks; whether paler or more careworn; whether his face is more wrinkled, or his hair more gray. And they are justified in their observation; for the man who has played the part he has, and with such results, can hardly be supposed to exhibit the countenance of a seraph.

Jefferson Davis recently visited Alexandria, Va., where a few friends greeted him. But he spoke, and spoke historically, and confirmed the opinion of the public, making his military chieftain, General R. E. Lee, the illustration. The Washington Republican reports that Mr. Davis said:

He is done forever with politics. There are fifty things besides in which he can be more useful to his country and in which he himself can reap more profit and enjoyment. The death of General Lee affected him deeply. It was not, he said, of old age or ordinary illness he died, but rather from corroding reflections, which wore away the casket of his great soul. Persons rid themselves of unhappy meditations by mingling freely in the giddy whirl of society, but Lee was a man apart from all other men. He permitted no escape to the mountain-load of saddened thought that lay close upon his heart. He kept his sorrows to himself, and finally succumbed to the oppressive burden. Mr. Davis was quite pathetic in speaking of Lee, and evidently felt a deep admiration for the deceased general.

We solemnly ask the question, can Lee die "from corroding reflection, which wore away the casket of his great soul," and Jefferson Davis not succumb to the same cause? Or is Davis one of the persons who "rid themselves of unhappy meditations by mingling freely in the giddy whirl of society?" No man in his situation can so dispose of "the mountain-load of saddened thought that lays close upon his heart." The fact that Mr. Davis was able to state that Lee was oppressed and crushed, is a proof that Davis fully understands the complaint. We cannot lift the veil that hides what passes in another's breast; but from such utterances as these, we learn the awful truth that human nature can never free itself from the dread incubus of Remorse when it cannot recall the past or atone for the deeds done therein!

THE DEFEAT OF HON. WILLIAM H. ARMSTRONG EXPLAINED.

We clip the following explanations of the defeat of Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong, from the Philadelphia Press of the 7th inst. The Press' informant is about right:

A gentleman from the Williamsport district of your state: who took a prominent part in the late Congressional canvass there, gives the following explanation of the defeat of Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong: Republican candidate for re-election to the Forty-second Congress. The defeat of the party in the Eighteenth district seems to have been the result entirely of local dissensions, which were especially violent in Tioga county. This county gave in 1868 an average Republican majority of about 3,200. In the last ele[illegible] the average majority [illegible] about [illegible] In 1869 there was a split in the [illegible] Two Republicans, who were de[illegible] nominating convention, ran as independent Republicans upon the Democratic ticket, and were both elected, one as prothonotary and the other as treasurer of the county. In 1870 a similar combination was made on the sheriff, and on the strength of the old fight an "Independent Republican" ran on the Democratic ticket, with the distinct bargain that the friends of Powers, the bolting Republican candidate, would support Sherwood for Congress if the Democrats would support him (Powers) for sheriff. Powers was defeated, but the split reduced the Republican majority on the Congressional candidate from the average of about 2,400 to 1,691. It resulted in the defeat of Mr. Armstrong by 27. In Potter county, also, there were two "Independent Republican" tickets, which disorganized and divided the party, but did not effect the vote to the same relative extent, although it reduced the majority somewhat. These are the only Republican counties of the district. the others are all uniformly and strongly Democratic. In these counties about eighty per cent. of the Democratic vote was polled and only about sixty per cent. of the Republican. Of course Mr. Armstrong had to encounter the usual hostility of disappointed aspirants for office, but this was of little moment, and would have been of no importance apart from the dissensions of the party on purely local issues, in the only Republican counties of the district.

COLORED CONGRESSMEN.

There is little of that foolish prejudice against color in the South which we so frequently meet with in the North; and that section where but a few years ago all the colored population was held in slavery we find the first to give the freedman a chance to show that he is equal to the position in which political equality has placed him. The fact is not generally known (says the Chicago Post) that seven colored men are running for Congress in the South. Their names and districts are as follows: Benj. S. Turner, First Alabama; Josiah T. Walls, Florida; Robert De Large, Second South Carolina; Dr. D. M. Norton, First Virginia; J. H. Rainey, First South Carolina; Ed. Shaw, Eighth Tennessee; and R. B. Elliott, Third South Carolina. The first among these in point of ability is Josiah T. Walls, of Florida, who is a man of thorough education and sound judgement, and is sure of election. Rainey and Elliott, of South Carolina, are already elected. Shaw, of the Memphis district, is a man of keen intelligence, and is immensely popular. His election is somewhat doubtful, inasmuch as he has both Republican and Democratic white competitors. In Turner's district (Mobile) there is a heavy Republican majority, and no white Republican opposition. Conceding, then, the doubtful chances of De Large, Norton and Shaw, we shall have at least four negroes in the Forty-second Congress, all of whom are much abler men than Revels, and who do not owe their elevation to any accident.

REPUBLICAN VICTORIES.

We advise our Democratic contemporaries to make their assaults on some other acts of the republican party than its alleged failure to collect the revenue and reduce the debt because the record refutes all their allegations on those scores. Since General Grant's inauguration, the payments of the public debt have been as follows:

March, 1869	$ 266,708
April	6,399,070
May	13,383,777
June	17,410,153
July	7,433,744
August	5,604,324
September	7,467,429
October	7,363,889
November	7,581,454
December	4,842,871
January, 1870	2,952,664
February	6,484,811
March	6,766,847
April	17,464,142
May	14,301,962
June	20,203,772
July	17,034,123
August	12,402,325
September	8,743,124

There is no rubbing these figures out; there they stand, and they speak for themselves. If anybody is dissatisfied with the management of public affairs by the Republican administration it must be with something else than its wonderful success in paying off the rebellion. The saving of interest alone since Grant's election is $10,000,000 a year.—Coldwater Rep.

RARE COLLECTION OF OLD COINS.—The Educator, in speaking of the late Governor Packer, says: "He was a historian and antiquarian of rare ability. He had a collection of coins, ancient and modern, second only to one other in the country. His cabinet of coins is said to be worth from $10,000 to $20,000. This immense collection he had made with great labor and sacrifice of time and money. During the laying of the Nicholson pavement, for instance, in our city, three years ago, he was daily seen walking along the streets, where the workmen had made excavations and thrown up the ground, looking for coins, and in this way found some very rare ones. He knew the history of every coin in his cabinet, and all the associations connected therewith.—His coins consist of specimens from before the Christian era down to the present time.

COLORED CONSTABLE.—A Democratic township in Chester county elected Wm. Johnson, a colored man, constable at the late election. The village Record says: "We must confess that we had hardly expected to record the election of the first colored man in Chester county, under the workings of the Fifteenth Amendment, in a township that rolls up a Democratic majority of forty-six on a total vote of two hundred and six. The Democrats voted for Johnson out of spite, but they probably never made a better choice."

WHAT NEXT?—The city of Erie, Pa., is now lighted by natural gas. Wells have been put down and a supply of the ethereal element has been procured not only to light up the city but to furnish fuel for many of the private dwellings and manufacturing purposes. Thirteen of these wells are now in successful operation and others are being sunk. Gas is found at the average depth of 550 feet and the average yield per well is 20,000 cubic feet per day.

ELECTIONS were held on the 8th inst., in 18 States. We have as yet no news.

THE WAR.

It is almost impossible for us to give any correct war news. There are so many conflicting statements. On Saturday last the news was that the proposed armistice had been accepted, and that in consequence hostilities would cease for 30 days. On Monday we learn that the announcement was premeture, and the war therefore goes on. The following are our latest cable dispatches.

FAILURE OF THE NEGOTIATIONS—THE WAR MUST GO ON.

VERSAILLES, Nov. 6.—[Special to the New York World.]—The Provisional Government has finally rejected the protocol agreed on by Thiers and Bismarck, although previously they had signified their approval. Thiers has received orders from Paris to notify Bismarck that his conditions could not be accepted, and to return to the capital immediately. The cause of the rupture is believed to be the persistence of Bismarck in insisting on guarantees for a cession of territory. The war goes on, and the Prussian ambassador at London says the struggle will continue all winter.

THE GREAT OBSTACLE TO PEACE.

LONDON, Nov, 6.—The disordered condition of Paris is the great obstacle to peace. Favre, Thiers, and Trochu had an interview at a French outpost, in which this subject was discussed in all its bearings. It was stated that the Committee of National Defence was in favor of an armistice, but was not sure of its ability to realize its mission.

The Journal Official of Paris says on this point that such an armistice, as is proposed by the powers cannot prejudice France until it is definitely ratified at Paris.

RECALL OF THIERS.

VERSAILLES, Nov. 6—4 P. M., via London. Thiers has received orders from Paris to break off negotiations for an armistice, and to leave the royal headquarters.

M. THIERS AND HIS MISSION—AN AFFECTING SCENE.

VERSAILLES, Nov. 6—[Special to the New York World].M. Thiers, after his interview with Bismarck, returned to the Hotel de Reservoir, where he met the Duke of Saxe Coburg, who greeted him cordially. "Do you not recognize me?" said the Duke. "Oh yes," replied M. Thiers; "under what terrible circumstances I see your Highness again." Upon taking leave of the Prussian officers at the outposts on his return to Paris, M. Thiers pointed to the public buildings of the capital, and with a voice broken by sobs, exclaimed; "Never before have I felt how much I love that unfortunate city—what desolation to me to see it thus."

The only point remaining unsettled concerning the armistice is the French demand for ammunition to be allowed to enter the city, which is refused by Bismarck.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT ACCUSED OF DUPLICITY.

VERSAILLES, Nov. 5—10 P. M.—The Provisional Government seems to be playing a double game. They officially assured the citizens that the government would not consent to any peace involving a cession of territory, but Thiers assured Bismarck that every member of the government was convinced that the Constituent Assembly would make peace on a basis of the surrender of the Rhine provinces and the payment of indemnity, and that they would not oppose such a settlement.

WHAT DOES THE GOVERNMENT MEAN?

TOURS, Nov. 6.—The government has as yet given the public no information as to the result of the armistice negotiations. The general impression is that the Ministers are not anxious for an armistice. A great number of addresses against it has been received from all parts of France.

IF you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eyes watering or weak, feel dull and stupid or debilitated, pain or pressure in the head, take cold easily, you may rest assured that you have the Catarrh. Thousands annually, without manifesting half of the above symtems, terminate in consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive or less understood by physicians. R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., is the proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy—a perfect Specific for Catarrh, 'Cold in the Head,' or catarrhal headache, which he sends to any address, post-paid for sixty cents, or for packages for $2. Pamphlet sent free. Sold by druggists.

FRANCE is at her old tricks again. Thiers says one thing diplomatically; Trochu assures the French people of another thing, and clinches it with the most emphatic assertions. No wonder that the German frankness and honesty is quite nonplussed, and no wonder that the accusation of duplicity is reiterated.

OLE BULL has been married twice within five, months, though to the same girl both times, on the 1st of June at his country seat in Norway, and the other day at her home in Madison, Wisconsin.

THE Prussian minister at Washington has been officially informed by his government of the failure of the armistice. It is thought probable that the war will continue all winter.

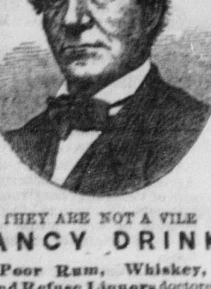
The Great Medical Discovery!
Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands
Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY?



FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

THEY ARE NOT A VILE
FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION. Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle.

NEW GOODS.—Messrs. Keller & Musser, merchants, Bishop street, have just received a large and well selected stock of Fall and Winter Goods, which they propose to sell at prices to suit the times. They are clever men. Give them a call.

FOR SALE.—A valuable Hotel property for sale, in Central City, with all the modern improvements. It is one of the best stands both for store and hotel in Central Pennsylvania. For further particulars apply at the office of the Bellefonte REPUBLICAN. n42tf.

THANKSGIVING.—His Excellency Gov. Geary has appointed November 24 a day of thanksgiving. It is the same day appointed by the President. Every merchant every citizen; but more especially every church and every christian should observe this day. All places of business should be closed, and we should have a nice thanksgiving turkey. Who will bring it?

ENTERPRISE.—Harper Brothers, at their old stand on Spring street, continue to do a first rate business. Their stock of Fall and Winter Goods is not surpassed by any house in town, and they take great pleasure in showing them to customers. They have such winning ways with them. A person cannot go into their store without buying something. They are bound to win.

TRY IT.—An editor down in Georgia, who no doubt has said something in his paper to injure the feelings of some one—the Court House Ring, perhaps, says: "It is a very easy matter to criticise a newspaper, but to print one to please everybody and the rest of mankind, is no small undertaking. Those who find fault with every little item which does not suit their ideas of right and wrong, should buy type and publish an organ of their own. Let them try it for a while, and if they don't get some new ideas on this subject then we are no judges of human nature—that's all.

RANKIN'S BOOK AND NEWS STORE THE BEST IN TOWN.

ACCIDENT.—A wagon load of boards fell upon Scott Miles of Port Matilda, on last Wednesday, producing a dislocation of the ankle and a compound commonuted fracture of the leg. Dr. Foust and Dr. Geo. L. Potter of this place reduced it. The last we heard from him, he was doing well.

ONE MORE.—Joseph Eckley breaksman on the B. & S. S., freight train, got his hand smashed on Monday last. Dr. Potter dressed the wound and he is now doing well. Mr. Eckley is a good citizen and a very clever man. We are sorry to hear of this accident; but right glad are we, that it is no worse. Every employee on our railroads, should insure without delay in the Travelers Accident and Life Insurance Company.

ANOTHER.—John Wyan, Esq., of this town, met with a serious accident on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on the 25th day of October last, producing a dislocation of the Humerus. The Physician of the Co. told him it was reduced. Upon his arrival here on Saturday last, Dr. Geo. L. Potter informed him that it was not reduced, and assisted by Dr. J. H. Dobbins, in the presence of a number of witnesses reduced it. He is now doing well. In our opinion Mr. Wyan and his companions should bring suit against the company. These Railroad companies are becoming, aye have become, too careless. Human life to them appears to be of little value. Why not make them pay for their carelessness, and thus teach them wisdom as well as the value of legs and arms?

STILL ANOTHER.—A son of Joseph Hull, of Valentines works jumped on a train of cars, hauled by mules from the Forge to the station, fell between the cars, producing a commonuted fracture of the left arm and a simple fracture of the right arm, and an incised wound of the latter severing the artery. Dr. Potter was called in, and we are happy to learn the case is doing well.

A few more cases like the above will, or ought to at least, teach the boys of Bellefonte and vicinity that jumping on cars when in motion, is a very dangerous business. A recent Act of the Legislature imposes a severe penalty upon boys for this offense. Boys be warned in time. Young John Hull would have been killed but for the presence of mind exercised by Charles Garret who is conductor on that train.

TAKE YOUR HOME PAPERS.—A newspaper is like a church—it wants fostering in the commencement, and for a short time; then, as a general thing, it can walk alone, and reflect credit upon its location. Take your home paper, and as many others as you are able—they give you more news of immediate interest than you can possibly obtain from any other source; they are the advertisement of the doing of your neighborhood; they talk for you when other localities belie you; they stand up for your rights; they tell you who is married and who is dead; they tell you who is manufacturer and who is merchant, and who is mechanic; and a thousand other things which we have no space or time to enumerate. Take your home papers, not grudgingly, but in a liberal spirit; not as a disagreeable duty, but as an investment that will amply pay the expenditure.—Ex.

CORRECTION.—In our notice of the new Rolling Mill, owned by the Messrs. Valentine & Co., published last week, the compositor made us say that it was run by an engine of eight-horse power. It should have read eighty-horse power. By the way, the young Messrs. Valentine, are really and truly our most enterprising citizens. The old firm has a reputation extensive as the boundaries of America; and the young men of the family, we judge from their actions, have determined to surpass their predecessors. But for these young men—the same men referred to last week—the Bellefonte Planing Mill which has proved such a convenience—we may say blessing to our community, would never have been started. They do not blow as much as some other people, but they have always acted upon the principle that "actions speak louder than words." Their fathers acted upon this same principle and they, therefore, do but follow in the footsteps of their illustrious predecessors. If we had a few more Valentine's Bellefonte would soon become a manufacturing city, and our farmers would have the benefit of a home market unsurpassed in this or any other country.

THE RAIL ROAD.—From what we can learn the engineers are now at work testing the practicability of a Railroad through Pleasant Gap to Pennsvalley. If this route proves practicable we understand that the Pa. R. R. Co. will withdraw their offer made to the people of Harris and Furguson townships and instead of a through road from Lewisburg to Spruce Creek, the road will be built from Bellefonte to Lewisburg by way of Spring Mills. Can it be that our friends in Harris will continue to fight over the location of the road, until it is taken from them altogether, and they left out in the cold? Will Moses Thompson and other wealthy citizens of the upper end, suffer this to be done? We want the road built right through. Friends, farmers of Harris if it is not done, to whom shall we attribute the failure? Wake up farmers of Harris, for there is danger of you not getting the road.

GREAT SENSATION.—Washburn's Last Sensation Troupe, will perform in Reynold's Hall, on Saturday night, the 12th inst. The reputation of Mr. Washburn is sufficient of itself to fill the Hall to overflowing without advertising. But he has one of the best companies that ever traveled in this country and he wants the people to know it. The Washburn Brothers, with their pupils, James Benselv, Jean Canfield, Henri Rixford and Master Johnie, form a troupe of Acrobats that to-day stand without a rival in this or the Eastern continent. Everybody should go and see them, and at the same time, see Neoskaleeta, the beautiful Indian woman, the dancing by Kitt Fish and Jean Canfield, professional Terpsicorians who have few if any equals. A prominent feature of Washburn's show is Fisk's Brass Band and Orchestra. It will be an excellent and rational entertainment, full of fun, and side splitting laughter. Everybody should go and see it.

WHO DID IT?—Some person has planted trees in the grounds around the new school building. We are too fast, for they are not planted, they are stuck in. On the south side of the house, they are stuck in about 15 feet apart, almost as thick as an experienced man would plant his currant bushes. Who did it? It is another spoiled job, and about every other tree should come out, and the rows regulated now. If it is not done now a few of them will die, and the beauty and symetry will be forever marred. At the north side or end, the distance between the trees is about right. Why not plant a row of maples along the curb? It should be done now. We do not charge for this advice.

THE PAVEMENTS.—The wealthy residents of Linn street, have torn up the miserable board walk of the days of Adam & Eve, and supplied its place, with large square sandstone, well laid down. Daniel Rhoads, John P. Harris, E. M. Blanchard, Esq. and a few others have the square sand stone. But Mr. S. T. Shugert and A. O. Furst, Esq., have determined that the square sand stone is not good enough for them, and are making preparations to lay marble pavement a la the floor of the Continental. It is a nice thing to have money. Poor Lock Haven, it is but a small town, when compared with Bellefonte.

DOBBINS' SOAP.—The celebrated Dobbins Electric Soap, is for sale at the Grocery store of Levi A. Miller. The soap is the best manufactured in the United States. Persons who once use Dobbins' Soap, will never purchase any other kind. Moreover it is sold by one of the most popular men in town. The South Ward is Democratic by about 26 majority, nevertheless Levi A. Miller was elected School Director by a majority of one vote. This shows the estimation in which he is held by his fellow citizens. But he is not more popular than Dobbins' Soap.

THANKS.—We return our thanks to Capt. W. W. Potter the gentlemanly ticket agent of the Pa. R. R. Co. at this place, for his efforts in procuring us a special car, in which to ship the two Liberty Presses, which we sold to R. S. Menamin, of Philadelphia, last week. Our thanks are also due to John Derstine for boxing them just when we wanted it done, and to James Furey, Wm. E. Shope, Isaac Haupt, Henry Yeager and others for assistance rendered in getting them from the Hose house into the car. Good neighbors, what a blessing they are.

THANKSGIVING.—Thanksgiving day, in accordance with the respective Proclamations of the President of the United States and of Governor Geary of this State, will be on the 24th inst. This is right and proper. As a Nation, as a christian people we have much, very much to be thankful for. We want to observe the day. We feel thankful. Our hearts are full, running over with gratitude. But we have no turkey. A hint to some of our wealthy patrons—rich farmers—is sufficient. We havn't another word to say.

PUBLIC SALE.—John P. Harris, Executor of the estate of Elizabeth Carey, deceased, will sell on Saturday, the 12th inst, commencing at 1 o'clock of said day, all the personal property of said deceased, together with two houses and lots and three building lots. The sale will take place at the late residence of deceased, on Ridge street, Bellefonte, Pa. Terms made known on day of sale. J. S. Parson, Auctioneer.

"MOTH and Rust" at Rankin's.

THE EDITOR AMONG THE HOGS.—A few days ago, having a little leisure, we started out to look at the "big hogs" boasted about so much by the men who own them. We passed the Watchman office, we did not like the breed, and pursued the even tenor of our way until we arrived at the Mill of Jno. M. Wagner & Co. We approached the hog pen, and oh! what hogs. Fifteen of as fine porkers as we have ever seen. They are perfect beauties. We think the smallest hog in the lot will weigh 350, while the largest will go, say 500 lbs. J. M. Wagner & Co. know how to raise hogs, as well as they know how to manufacture good flour, feed, &c.

We next took a look into the pen owned by John Caldwell. He has two magnificent hogs. That word magnificent is not out of place; for while Mr. Caldwell has not fifteen he has two bouncers. He has one, we think a Chester White, that will weigh heavier than any in the pen of Wagner & Co.

We then took a look into the pen of Morris Cowdrick. He has two—right good. Our friend Robert McKnight did not show us his. Formerly he has been one of our brag hog raisers; but whether his hogs are a failure this year, or whether his Democracy, would not permit him to trust us to take a look into his pen, we cannot tell. However this may be, we did not see his hogs. We have heard since that they are of the runty breed—a little like Meek, not large but exceedingly live and avaricious. They are always squealing give, give. The only difference between them and Meek is, they want corn, Meek wants toll from John McGhee. Another difference between them and Meek consists in the fact that Meek has a larger crib to feed from, a larger party of congenial spirits to support him. The point of resemblance between Meek and Mr. McKnight's hogs, irrespective of party, race or color, consists in this, that they are exceedingly thin. They evidently belong to the lean kine of which we read elsewhere.

We next visited the pen of our enterprising friend H. P. Harris—Cabinet Maker and Undertaker. Henry has four beauties, fat, thrifty and increasing. The four, good for 1100 lbs of pork.

Our next visit was to the pen, belonging to our enterprising carpenter friend Col. D. K. Tate. The Col. is a first class carpenter; but he is just as good at raising big hogs. He brags on his hogs. He has a right to, for he has something to brag on. He has three perfect hogs.

Now up the hill we go to look at the hogs belonging to Mr. Isaac Lose, who is a clever man and keeps one of the best livery stables in town. His hogs, like his horses are in the best of order, and the four will make him at least 1300 lbs of pork.

We have not space to finish our chapter on hogs this week, but we must say, that it is our opinion that the farmers of Centre county, would do well, to pay a little more attention to hog raising. There is more money in it, than in raising wheat. What is to hinder a first class farmer from butchering every fall 100 head of hogs? Farmers of Centre think of this.

Next week we may have a word to say about the hogs of Wm. S. Tripple, the fashionable tailor of the town, Capt. Geo. Bayard's "spotty," also a word about the superior stock of our friend Benjamin Schrock, Cyrus Strickland, John McDermott, &c., and close up with a notice of the biggest, boggishest hog in all this country, belonging to the Centre Hall Reporter. The last named only weighs about 150 lbs net, but then it is the genuine article. No mixture, no cross breed.

WHY?—Why is it that the Republican papers in Blair county continue to advance the interests of the Democratic party? Can Brainerd explain, or bashe no "plain words" to utter in the cause of truth? Perhaps the editors of the three Republican papers in Huntingdon Co. can tell? We have no disposition to meddle in other peoples affairs, but we do think that it is very foolish to attribute our late defeat in this Senatorial district, to the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment, while in the two counties above named, there are six Republican papers that did more in the last six months to promote their own individual interests than they did to advance the interests of the glorious principles of the Republican party. It is about time this thing should cease. The people of these counties should fix their seal of condemnation upon these personal and silly newspaper feuds. Wake up gentlemen. Forget the past, and prepare for the contest next fall. Do not make the poor negro the scape goat to hide your own political sins, while the Democrats stand laughing at you, ready to drive their Free Trade Speer to the very vitals of your workingmen.

NEW EATING HOUSE.—Jerry Butts, like Banquo's ghost, will not down at the bidding of any one. He is emphatically the irrepressible, indefatigable Jerry. On the Southeast corner of Allegheny and Bishop street, he has recently opened one of the most fashionable Eating and Oyster Saloons ever opened in this town. Everything about it is nice. He keeps no intoxicating drinks. His tables are perfect models, and all the dishes, spoons, furniture, etc., correspond therewith. Jerry is the right man in the right place, and our patrons from the country, when they come to town, and feel like eating a dish of oysters or a good warm meal of any kind, will do well to call on Jerry and have their wants supplied.

Man wants but little here below,
Nor wants that little long;
But what he wants, he wants it good,
Clean, nice, and pure, and strong—

all except the butter, and that Jerry is determined to have fresh and clean.

FISH.—The thanks of the people of Bellefonte and vicinity are due Messrs. Yeager & Downing, for the effort they have been, and are making, to supply this market with fish. They keep one of the most quiet and genteel saloons in town, and upon every Wednesday and Friday, they receive a large supply of white fish, bass, pickerell, &c. What can be better or cheaper in the family, than fish? And who could be more accommodating to customers than Messrs. Yeager & Downing? They desere the patronage of the public.

THANKS.—Our thanks are due W. H. H. Brainerd, Editor of the Tyrone Herald, for a complimentary ticket to the "Juncata Lecture Course." The next lecture will be delivered by P. B. Du Chaillu, on Wednesday evening, Nov., 26th, in Caldwell's Hall, Tyrone, Pa.—Brainerd knows how to run a course of lectures, and knows, too, how to make them pay; but we are sorry we cannot say as much for him as a local editor.

OBITUARY.—John Crosthwaite was born in Potter twp., September, 1832; enlisted in the defence of his country in August 1861; was a member of company I, 49th Regt., Pa. Vol.; mustered out of the service at Winchester, Va., October, 1864. During the time he was in the army, he acted in the capacity of clerk and recruiting officer, as well as private soldier. He received a slight wound in the head, at Coal Harbor, after which he was detailed as clerk in the Quarter Masters Department.

Soon after his discharge from the service, he engaged in bridge-building, for the Keystone Bridge Company, and followed that business until the time of his sudden death, which occurred on the 27th of October, at Parkersburg, West Virginia, under the following circumstances: They were building a Railroad bridge across the Ohio River, and while in the act of removing a derrick, he stood on a plank which proved to be unsafe, it broke under him, precipitating him into the river. He fell 135 feet and was instantly killed. His body was promptly and carefully sent home, in the care of Mr. Hull, of Lewistown, from whom these facts are gathered.—He was the principle support of his mother, to whom he made a monthly remittance, an honest and true man, greatly beloved by his fellow laborers, whose happiness he strove to promote, and who say his place will be hard to fill.

His remains reached the residence of his aged and deeply afflicted mother, near Potter's Mills, on Saturday, P. M., 29th ult., and were interred on Sabbath, in the presence of a large assembly of sympathizing friends and neighbors.

May he who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb, sooth the aching heart of his aged mother, and enable her in her great affliction to adopt the following language as her own:

"Blest be His holy name!
The Lord doth give and he doth take away;
Blest be His holy name!
Our God to-day the same as yesterday.

Blessed be His holy name!
Tho' pants my weary heart for cooling streams,
And in the desert great
I feel upon my head the sun's rude beams,

Still blessed be His name!
For this we know—the Lord His people loves!
And, though His strokes are felt,
Each heart-wrung tear His deep compassion moves.

Oh, blessed be His name!
From out the depths his burdened spirit cries,
And 'mid the storms of life,
To Him, my Rock, my Refuge, ever flies.

Then bless again His name;
The Lord doth give, the Lord doth take away;
Sing the exalted strain—
Our God to-day the same as yesterday.

For the REPUBLICAN.

UNIONVILLE ITEM.—On Saturday the 5th, the village of Unionville was visited by the Sellers Zouaves of Buffalo Run, who came in full force, numbering about forty in their splendid uniform, and was received at the depot by the Unionville Cadets, commanded by Capt. O. W. Van Valin and Lieut's. J. C. Smith and Alonzo McEwen. After the usual congratulation the two companies repaired to the meadow of Mr. Saml. Brugger, where after drilling for some time they returned to town and exhibited themselves to the citizens in a parade through the streets. The two companies made quite a creditable display. The young gentlemen making a very fair appearance, both individually and as a body. It is such social meetings as these which bring together our young men to enjoy themselves in a social way, which strengthens not only the military spirit of the country, but gives us a better idea of the kind of materials we have among our romantic hills and beautiful vallies. The martial band in attendance, belonged to both companies, and together formed the best band in the county. Dinner was provided at the house of George Taylor, and when we say it was an elegant dinner, we only say what is well known to any one traveling the road, that it could not be better, for if there is anything in which this veteran landlord excells it is in getting up a dinner on an occasion such as this was. Notwithstanding this unusual gathering in this quiet place, there was nothing happened to mar the pleasures of the day. The young men of the companies conducted themselves in an orderly and gentlemanly manner, and seemed rather to wish to attract attention by their sober and military bearing, than by any outbursts of rowdyism. The ladies turned out in full force to witness the display made by the companies, and many are the criticisms made by these best of critics upon the appearance, manner, looks, &c., of the young gentlemen. And we may say without wounding any ones feelings that there are few places the size of Unionville in Centre county or any where else, where there are so many really nice, good looking, and beautiful young ladies. Indeed, being but a visitor at the place on that day, it is very difficult for us to say which we admired most, the ladies or the young gentlemen, but if we were compelled to give our opinion, we would have to say that we admired the young ladies more than we did the young gentlemen. VISITOR.

A WARNING TO FARMERS.—Farmers in this section will do well to heed the warning given them by the operations of horse thieves in other localities, and protect themselves against their games. The following rule has been practiced in many places: Four men have been driving quite a profitable trade in horse flesh throughout this State. Two of them go in advance with a horse and buggy, sell the horse, purchase a less costly one and start for the next town. On the following day the other two arrive in hot haste, inquire for the two that have left, learn that they have sold the horse, claim it as theirs, gain possession of the animal, and start off to practice the same swindle elsewhere.

MAIL ROUT.—We learn from William Thompson, Esq., a scientific farmer, and resident of Harris township, that through the indefatigable efforts of the Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong, a new mail route is established between Lemont and Houserville. Houserville still lives. It is a live town, and should have a Post Office and a daily mail. We understand that the mail is now but tri-weekly.—Everything cannot be done in a day, or in a month; but we have no hesitancy in saying that the enemies of Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong will yet praise him, and many of those who scratched him off the ticket, on the 11th ult., will sorely repent their action.

SPECIAL Examinations of Teachers will be held at the County Superintendents office, at Bellefonte, on Saturday, November 19th. Applicants must bring the required "Request" from the proper Board of Directors. Teachers, and all others having business with the County Superintendent, are requested to call at his office on Saturdays, as he will be out of town during the week.

"DICKENS" Novels at Rankin's.

THE New York Revolution, women's paper, prints the following on the "Good Little Girl of the period:"

I want to be a voter,
And with the voters stand;
The "man I go for" in my head,
The ballot in my hand."

Well, if she's a "good little girl," we would not object to have her "go for" us any way she'd a mind to—ballot or no ballot; but there are other "female women" who might "go for" us as much as they pleased in their heads, but to have them "go for" us in our heads we would require space to the rear, the soles of our boots would become visible, alternately, and our coat tail would assume a horrizontal position.

TABLEAUX.—The ladies of Bellefonte will hold a grand series of Tableaux for the benefit of St. John's Episcopal Church, in Reynold's Hall, on Thursday evening the 10th inst., and on Monday evening the 14th inst. They should be well patronized by our citizens. Let the Hall be crowded.

AUCTION.—There will be sold at Auction, at one o'clock p. m., on Friday next, at the residence of Thos. Rhoads, a lot of household goods. Persons desirous of bargains, should attend. Mr. Rhoads is not selling out, but the goods that are stored there will be sold without reserve.

A NEW lot of novels just received at Rankin's Book Store.

MARRIED.

On the 6th of October, at Bellefonte, by Justice S. M. Irwin, John Kibe, and Elizabeth Hines, all of Walker township.

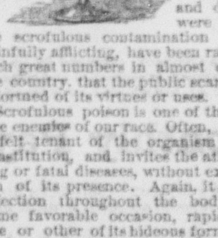
Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.



The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attacks of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas' Triter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Veneral and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leycorrhea or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion of Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are LANGUID and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

COUGH NO MORE.

WARNER'S COUGH BALSAM is healing, softening and expectorating. The extraordinary power it possesses in immediately relieving, and eventually curing, the most obstinate cases of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Catarrh, Hoarseness, Asthma and Consumption is almost incredible. So prompt is the relief and certain its effects in all the above cases, our physicians are daily prescribing it, and one and all say that it is the most healing and expectorating medicine known. One dose always affords relief, and in most cases one bottle effects a cure. Sold by druggists, in large bottles. Price One Dollar. It is your own fault if you still cough and suffer. The Balsam will cure.

WINE OF LIFE.

The great Blood Purifier and Delicious Drink, Warner's Vinum Vita, or Wine of Life, is free from poisonous drugs or impurities, being prepared for those who require a stimulant. It is a splendid appetizer and tonic, and the finest thing in the world for purifying the blood. It is the most pleasant and delicious article ever offered to the public, far superior to brandy, whiskey, wine, bitters, or any other article. It is more healthy, and cheaper. Both male and female, young or old, can take the Wine of Life. It is, in fact, a life preserver. Those who wish to enjoy good health, and a free flow of lively spirits, will do well to take the Wine of Life. It is different from any thing ever before in use. It is sold by druggists; also at all respectable saloons. Price, One Dollar, in quart bottles.

EMMENAGOGUE.

Warner's Emmenagogue is the only article known to cure the Whites, (it will cure in every case.) Where is the family in which this important medicine is not wanted? Mothers, this is the greatest blessing ever offered you, and you should immediately procure it. It is also a sure cure for Female Irregularities, and may be depended upon in every case where the monthly flow has been obstructed through cold or disease. Sold by druggists. Price One Dollar. Making Wine From Grapes.

To the many inquiries we always receive about this time of the year as to the best mode of making grape wine we have on former occasions replied by publishing the European mode of manufacture. That was all we could do then, and we can do no more now; but it is useless to repeat this. as the mode there will prove unsuccessful here, we mean in Pennsylvania and everywhere else north of us. Indeed there is but little wine made in any part of this country as it is in France, Germany, Spain, &c., except in California and at south western points at as much lower latitude than here. But a so called wine is manufactured from g[illegible] the fashion of currant [illegible] times very agrea- [illegible] ould be picked [illegible] dry day, all [illegible] perfect [illegible] on car[illegible] add [illegible] t water to o[illegible] f juice [illegible] oroughly cleansed keg or [illegible] at the vessel is full leaving [illegible] in order that fermentation [illegible] vent and throw out the impurities; fill up with reserved juice to keep the vessel always full. At the end of two or three weeks, when the fermentation is over, rack it off drawing the liquor carefully off, keeping it constantly running and removing into a scalded out tub; then scald out the vessel again, and return the liquor, leaving the bung rather loosely in its place for the second fermentation.—When that is over bung up tightly, and let remain for at least six months, or altogether, using as it may be wanted. It is better if racked off at the end of six months or longer, and put into from two to five gallon demijohns, though the usual bottles will answer very well. We have kept currant wine in a ten gallon keg for six years with safety, though we would not advise it to be continued in wood longer than four years.—Germantown Telegraph.

Sweet Biscuit.—One pound of flour, half a pound of sugar, two eggs beaten, a teaspoonful of caraway seeds and a quarter of a pound of butter. Mix all well together, roll the paste thin, and cut it into round biscuits; prick them, and bake them upon tins.

Almond Cakes.—Rub two ounces of powdered lump-sugar. Beat an egg with half the sugar, then put in the other ingredients. Add one ounce of blanched almonds and a little almond flavor. Roll them in your hand the size of a nutmeg, and sprinkle with fine lump-sugar. They should be lightly baked.

Indian Cake.—Two cups of Indian meal, one of flour, one pint of milk, two eggs, two spoonfuls of cream of tartar, one of soda, one tablespoonful of butter.

Silver Cakes.—Whites of eight eggs, two and a half cups of flour, two of white sugar, one of sweet milk, half a cup of butter, and a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder.

Icing Cake.—Half a pound of crushed sugar, three tablespoonfuls of boiling water, whites of two eggs; let the water and sugar boil until almost like candy, then drop in the eggs, when beaten stiff, continue to beat while dropping. This is to spread between the cake.

Washing Zephyr Goods.—An item of general interest to ladies is, that all zephyr articles, hoods, breakfast capes, etc. may be washed without shrinking or fulling, by simply using cold water and Castile soap, instead of hot water, as is generally used. No steaming is necessary afterwards.

Jelly Cake.—One cup of sugar, three teaspoonfuls of melted butter, three eggs, one cup of flour and one teaspoonful of cream of tartar beaten together; add two teaspoonfuls of milk, with half a teaspoonful of soda, just before baking. Bake in thin sheets; spread jelly on, and roll it up while warm.

Bran Tea.—A very cheap and useful drink in colds, fevers, and restlessness from pain. Put a handful of bran in a pint and a half of cold water let it boil rather more than half an hour, then strain it, and, if desired, flavor with sugar and lemon-juice; but it is a pleasant drink without any addition.

To Soften the Hands.—Half a pound of mutton tallow, one ounce of camphor gum, and one ounce of glycerine; melt, and when thoroughly mixed, set away to cool. Rub the hands with this at night. It will render them white, smooth and soft.

To Get Rid of Fleas.—Pennyroyal scattered [illegible] the carpet, or bedding during th[illegible] day, and worn in a small package about the person or persons where fleas abound, will completely relieve the sufferers.

Cream Pie.—Half pound of butter, four eggs, sugar, salt, and nutmeg to your taste, and two tablespoonsful of arrowroot wet; pour on it a quart of boiling milk, and stir the whole together. To be baked in deep dishes.

Making Soap Without Grease.—One bar of common rosin soap, one pound sal soda, one ounce borax dissolve the soda and borax in eight pints of rain or soft water; then add the soap, and boil until dissolved, when you will have upon cooling, ten pounds of good soap, worth eight to ten cents a pound, and costing only one cent a pound.

Bad Butter.—The Toronto Globe asks and answers the question why fall butter is many times so inferior to that made earlier in the year. It enumerates the prevalence of weeds in the stubbles and pastures after harvest as seriously affecting the quality of the milk; the use of bad butter either supplied to the cows by allowing them access to muddy pools, stagnant water, and what is worse, using bad water to wash the product in when it comes from the churn.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sung to the tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now complete connections made,
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedy and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about
And wore out all their clothing.

Chorus, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. Sternberg,
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of Spring and Summer clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

People who travel by other routes, and also peoplewho, instead of travelling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest price.

Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere; if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality.

RANGING FROM $6,50 to $18,00

MANHOOD

In the Young and Rising Generation-

The vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which Nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so facinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision Langour, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this Medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth or Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur, it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

THE DIAMOND GLASSES,

MANUFACTURED BY

J. E. SPENCER & CO.,

N. Y., which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the World to be the

MOST PERFECT

Natural, Artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name "Diamond," on account of their hardness and brilliancy. THE SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLE on which they are constructed brings the core or centre of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural, healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as glimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in use. They are Mounted in the Finest Manner, in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose. THEIR FINISH AND DURABILITY cannot be surpassed.

CAUTION.—None genuine unless bearing their trade mark stamped on every frame.

FRANK P. BLAIR,

Jeweler and Optician, is Sole Agent for

BELLEFONTE, PENN'A.

From whom they can only be obtained. These goods are not supplied to Peddlars at any price. v2n23-1y.
